Chairperson Bryce attended the Zoom Tree Equity Score Analyzer for Washington State webinar. Bryce states the training was a way to analyze tree density and where to focus on planting trees. It is graded in multiple different ways. There is a map already created, broken down by ethnicity, crime, income, tree canopy, with accompanying data. It is an interactive map with parcels to click on to learn about the scores and scoring of trees & areas. In the interactive map, there is a way to find out how many trees needed to plant to get the parcel up to the amount of trees needed to improve the area they are planted in.
